Codicil “My last wishes”

More and more people want to have control over their life, even when it's about the personal interpretation of their own funeral.

“My last wishes” is written for anyone who wants to think about his/her death and wants to make known his/her wishes in life. By filling in this codicil you decide how your funeral will take place and your next-of-kin are thus relieved of a lot of questions and concerns. They can deal with saying goodbye and thus start the bereavement.

After filling in this codicil, let the appropriate people know where it is or give them a copy. Add also a current mailing list, any insurance policy, any will, a copy of a donor codicil, donation of the body to medical science and/or a declaration to euthanasia.

If you have any questions filling out this codicil, please ask me, free of charge, for assistance.

First of all, what to do after a death:

Please call your funeral leader of Adiós con Amor, Jet van der Heijden first: 661100390. She will come to your house and together with you she calls your family doctor, who will come to certify the death and will fill out the official statement of death (your funeral leader has these statements with her). Together we do what feels good for you and in calmness you'll take the next decision.

If the death took place in the hospital, call the funeral leader immediately, before you take the wrong decision imposed by the hospital or doctor. She will come directly to the hospital and will inform you about all the possibilities.

My last wishes

You can read all my wishes in this codicil, if I die unexpectedly. I appreciate when this will, as much as possible, be respected.
